District Association Dinner Being Planned

Decision that the next general meeting will be at Port Arthur on the night of Thursday, July 10, and the adoption of a constitution and by-laws to be presented at that time, were the chief features of the final meeting of the Sabine district "Big Five" committee held at Beaumont Monday afternoon.

With every member of the committee present, the quintet completed all of its recommendations. These will be presented to the general meeting of the chambers of commerce from Beaumont, Port Neches, Orange and Nederland, which will be held here. Henry Lohman is Port Arthur's member of the drafting committee.

A. L. Burge, manager of the Chamber of Commerce and Shipping is secretary of the committee. Burge submitted yesterday bylaws and a constitution which were discussed and finally passed with few changes.

The question whether the Sabine district national organization shall be composed of all members of the chamber of commerce in the district or confined to officers and directors was discussed at length. It finally decided to limit the membership to officers and directors to avoid top-heaviness.

Flappers Vindicated, Girls Win 3 Prizes In Thrift Essay Contest

Hull's "The Awakening" Opens First Night of Nearly Two Weeks Appearance; House Packed

THEY call 'em flappers and say they are the best little spinsters the world has ever produced, but the thrift essay contest conducted by the First National bank handed them a brief which they can use for a club from now on.

More than 700 essays submitted, and all three of the prize winners were girls:

They gave monetary facia, and how to get along in life and keep the wolf stammered from eating out the tracks in the strife for the daily bread.

The prize winners are the following: the judges announced last night: Jamie Lee Davis, age 12, Low Seventh Grade, De Queen school, and who lives at 1511 Fourteenth street, first prize, $27.50; Doris Leggett, 15, 1540 Thomas Blvd., high school, second prize, $25; Jane Drake, 11, 141 Woodbury Blvd., De Queen school, High Sixth grade, third prize, $12.50.

It shows again tonight; the curtain rings up at 8:30.

"The Awakening," apparently off for a run of nearly two weeks.

Taking the program as it was presented and going down the line, it is found an offering, which covers the entire circuit of appeal. Heavy and willing; from swayed, the racing-skin slick side-splitting kind of subtle Mark Twain humor; from drama to melodrama and intermission stages, the scale was run, which passed according to the theme and the performance is par excellent.

High Heels Play Part in Suit for Damage of $10,000

Special to The News.

BEAUMONT, Texas, June 24.—High heels play an important part in a $10,000 damage suit being heard today in 33rd district court.

The suit was filed by Mrs. Nettie Mae McNeill of Nederland against the T. & N. O. railroad. The plaintiff was enroute from Beaumont to Houston and when she stepped from the train at Houston slipped and injured her ankle. She charged the railroad had not provided proper steps from the train to the platform.

Defendants in the case allege that the accident was the result of carelessness and was a "careless and negligent act in walking and stepping at the plaintiff did, knowing she was wearing shoes with built up heels."

The case is the first of a number of jury civil cases to be tried in 33rd court this week.

MAUGHAN'S TRIP IS SUCCESSFUL

Dream of Army Fliers Carried Out

SAN FRANCISCO. June 24.—

Fleet almost like the sun itself, Lieutenant Russell Maughan flew by daylight from New York to San Francisco Monday and the dream of American aviators of a dawn to dusk trans-continental flight became a reality.

The communication declares that for several months Miles' services as city clerk have been unsatisfactory and that the good of the city's administrative affairs were to be considered.

Hearing If Desired

The letter states that the council would not stand upon its "rights" in the matter of Miles' discharge and would accord the dismissed official a public hearing if desired.

Several Days Ago

An amendment ordinance was passed by the council vesting authority in council for discharging a group of city employees employed under civil service rules.

A charter amendment voted by the people at an election in November, 1923, installed civil service regulations for a group of city hall employees.

In March, 1923, an ordinance was passed according to any employee affected right to a hearing after charges of "malfeasance" or "misfeasance" or "for any other reason" had been made. The ordinance passes mineral days ago abrogated this right.

According to Maughan at the city hall, one of the reasons for the council's demand that Miles resign lay in information given out by the city clerk as to the condition of certain city buildings and city budget items. Council members are understood to have denied this, however.

Maughan's hearing was held in the city hall, and he was present.

He was urged by wire or wireless to defer the hearing until the next day.

At 8:30 a. m. on Tuesday, June 24, he was present.

He was present at the hearing and was present at the hearing.

Running a wire from a ceiling fixture to a floor or table lamp is likely to do two things. It may give an untidy appearance to the room that should be the most attractive in the home. It is usually in the way, and likely to result in breaking the lamp. Convenience outlets will eliminate both of these troubles.

"Who Needs An Abstract?"

Since an Abstract is needed to enable you to find out what kind of a title you may be getting when purchasing a piece of property, it naturally follows you need the Abstract before you have paid the purchase price. If some defect appears in the title, the best or easiest time to cure the defect is when the seller is anxious to do all he can to fix the title to satisfy the buyer. Therefore, demand the Abstract and have it examined before you pay the full cash payment.

HELP FOR THE MAN WHO WANTS TO BUILD

In this five-room, full two-story house, economy is combined with good appearance. The design does not follow any tradition in a slavish way, but is reminiscent of the colonial. All elements that tend to increase costs have been rigidly cut out. There are no angles and few breaks in plan; no dormers and the roof is extremely simple. All materials are stock size and dimensions.

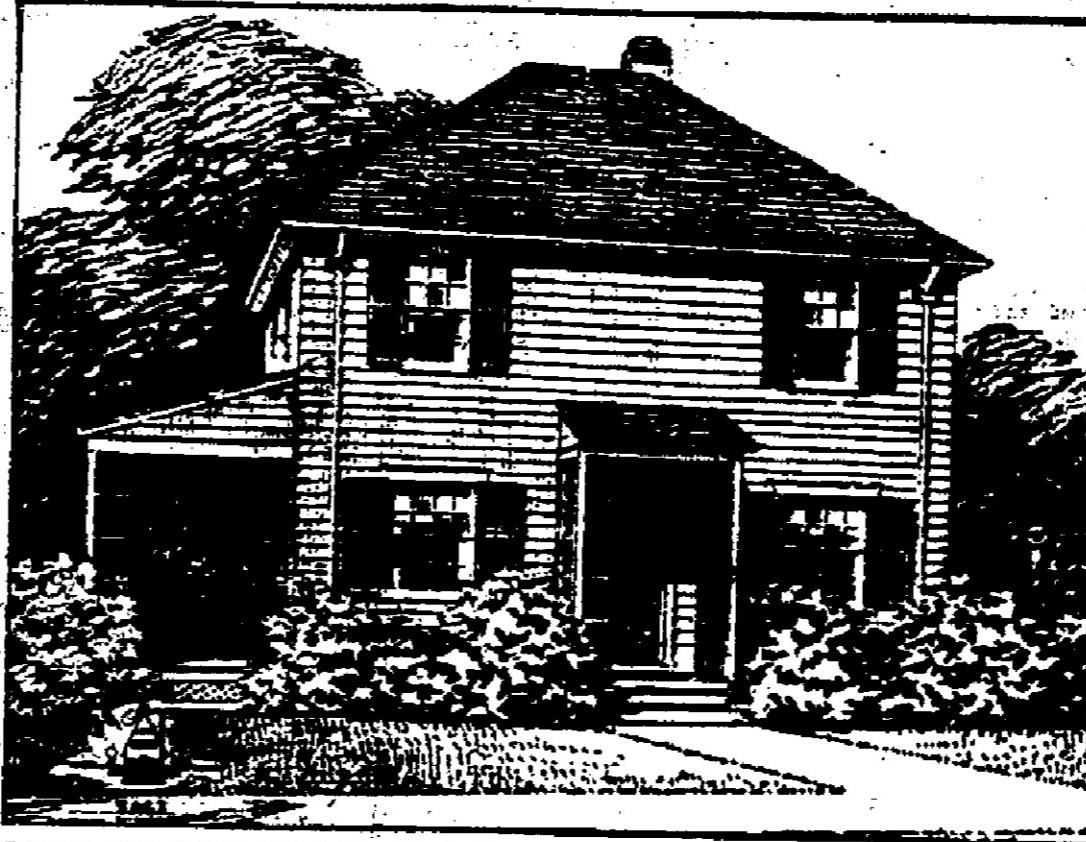

The plan is very flexible. The frontage may be between 30 and 36 feet. The porch may be added almost anywhere. The living and dining rooms may be separate, or thrown together. The dining alcove may be used or omitted.

The construction is frame, with siding or shingle exterior, shingle roof, cement base course, and masonry foundations.

The cost to build this house, including heating, plumbing, lighting, ready-to-live-in, but not including wall decorations, should range between $4,500 and $5,500. In certain localities where costs are high, the highest figure quoted would be too low. In other localities, the lowest figure quoted would be more than sufficient. The range of $1,000 is given to cover differences in the way the house is built and how thoroughly it is equipped and completed.

EDITOR'S NOTE: The plans for small houses are furnished by the Regional Bureau of the Architects' Small House Service Bureau of the United States, Inc., an organization made up of the representative practicing architects from leading architectural offices throughout the United States. This bureau is controlled by the American Institute of Architects, and has the endorsement of the Department of Commerce, United States government. It is practically a non-profit making public service, and has as its purpose the furnishing of a very complete and dependable small house plan service at modest cost. For information regarding the blue prints and specifications, address the Home Building Editor of this paper. The United States Bureau maintains an Information Department to answer house builder's questions at no charge. Enclose stamped addressed envelope.

Q—My house is to be situated on a low lot which is damp during the winter months of the year. Should this be put on extra thick foundation?

A—The fact that this lot is damp during some seasons of the year would indicate that the subsoil is probably extremely damp. There may be an underground head of water at a level normally reached by house foundations. Under such circumstances, it would be well to keep the foundations as high as they can be within reason, taking into consideration the adjoining properties, the difficulties of terrace, and so on. It would be wise to waterproof the foundation walls and basement floor.

Second News Water Carnival to Be Held Here July 15

Gates Beach Site Of Banner Affair For Port Arthur

By L. L. ENGELEING

JULY 15 has been arranged as the date of the second annual News water carnival to be held in Port Arthur.

Not only will there be a list of stunts bigger and better than last year, but there will also be a list of prizes, for these far exceeding those of last year. These have not been worked out, but will be announced together with the list of judges to handle the affair.

The water carnival will be held in the canal at the foot of Richmond avenue, within a few hundred feet of Gates beach, according to present plans. Plenty of benches will be provided for the spectators, who will be able to reach this site very easily either by street car or automobile. Fleasts, springboards and diving stands will be built within the next few days. Time of the water carnival will be at 6:30, when the cool of the evening has set in and also a time generally convenient.

Many to Compete

It is probable that some of the Port Arthur swimming experts may be secured to assist in the judging of the many events. Plans are to make this second annual water carnival as comprehensive an affair as possible, taking care of all classes of entries. Men, women, children are all expected to compete. There will be events testing speed as well as fancy qualities in swimming, diving of every variety, and every branch of the swimming game.

This water carnival is meant to boost along water sports in Port Arthur like they have never been boosted before, and to encourage even more competition, although even now Port Arthur is among the leading cities of Texas in this respect.

Much Interest Shows

The swimming competition at the pleasure pier of Fourth of July celebration, the swimming classes being held at the Plazaatorium by E. W. Conway, the tank tournament between the Port Arthur and Houston teams last week, and others, are all examples of the interest being taken in water sports here.

Pat Moran Wins Over Jack Zwie on Foul Amid Crowd's Boos

NEW YORK, June 24.—Pat Moran, New Orleans' lightweight, won from Jack Zwie, Pittsburgh last night, when Referee Johnny Gallagher disallowed Zwie for foul hitting after one minute and 43 seconds in the third round of a scheduled 10-round bout last night.

Moran came out of a clinch with his back turned and his hands held high. Zwie swung to Moran's jaw and was immediately nerved to his corner. Gallagher, who referred the Dempsey-Firpo fight, had turned Zwie in the second round for hitting Moran when the latter was in a similar posture.

The decision was unfavorably received by the crowd which refused to leave the Queensboro stadium where the fight was held. When efforts of police to disperse the crowd were futile officials turned out the lights.

Before the ending of the fight Zwie had been outpointing Moran.

HOUSTON TEAM HERE JULY 26

Date Postponed for Austin And Galveston Matches

"We did very well—as well as we could have expected," says E. W. Cowans about the Port Arthur-Houston tank tournament held at Houston Saturday. Cowans, who is teaching swimming at the Plazaatorium, has also been handling the Port Arthur tank team.

The Port Arthur date for a return match with Houston has been postponed until July 26. Cowans says, Houston originally had been slated to be here Saturday of this week.

Meet Austin and Galveston

The Bayou city swimmers have an open date this week, but meet the Galveston "mermen" Saturday, July 3. On July 12 and 13 Austin will furnish the opposition, one touring being in the capital city, and the other in Houston. Austin will be remembered as capturing the southern aquatic title at New Orleans last summer. The upstarts are coached by Roy B. Henderson, athletic director of the University interscholastic basketball team. Incidentally, one of the members of Austin's team is young John Mayfield, son of Senator Mayfield.

"Houston has a crack team," says Cowans. They have been working together for two or three years, and meet three times a week for practice.

In Saturday's tournament the Houstonians won from the combined Port Arthur and Beaumont team by a score of 47 to 15. The locals took first in the 50-yard back stroke, this being won by Si Burnett; Beaumont, Port Arthur took second in the 20-yard dash.

Houston Miss High

Bather of Houston was high with 10 points, taking first in the 50-yard and 100-yard dashes. Burnett for Port Arthur came second with eight points. Porter's brilliant showing for Houston in fancy diving was one of the features of the match.

Johnson and Burnett for the Jefferson county squad both made good showings.

Leo Brumley Will Meet Caplan On Mat Tonight

The snappy athletic event for Port Arthur this week will be the finish wrestling match between Leo Brumley and Abe Caplan tonight, under the auspices of the Port Arthur Athletic club. Brumley is a Port Arthur product, while Caplan writes Chicago after his name, although he has been touring every state between here and the emperor city. Caplan's latest match was with Harry Demarest at Waco.

Tonight's match will start going at 8 o'clock sharp in the athletic hall at the club. A good-sized percentage of the club's large membership is expected to be on hand. The referee has not yet been announced, and he may be selected from the floor tonight.

Brumley has not faced a Port Arthur sport crowd in nearly a year, having broken a pair of ribs in a match with Mike Pollard at the Elks theater. Of course, this incapacitated the Port Arthur man, but Manager Harry Coughlin of the local club says another chance is being given Brumley to show his stuff, now that Caplan happens to be coming through the country looking for matches. Caplan is scheduled to wrestle at a weight of 185 pounds, with Brumley at 190 pounds.

Ladies will be admitted free by the management tonight.

Odds and Ends and Comment on Our Morning Mail

LaFOLLETTE MANEUVERS HIS COHORTS TO CONTROL CONGRESS, WHITE HOUSE

There are veteran newspaper correspondents in the city of Washington who say that Senator Robert M. LaFollette wants a strong man for second place on the ticket with him and is considering Warren S. Stone and Huston Thompson of Colorado.

Backward weather has played havoc with the crops. The government's June 1 report showed that the nation's crops were in the poorest condition they had been on that date for the last dozen years.

Crop failures come. They come periodically.

Early in 1922 Sir William Henry Beveridge, head of the London School of Economics, predicted that the world was approaching a year "designed to repeat something like the experiences of 1915, the year of the worst and most general harvest failure known in European history."

Economists headed by Beveridge had checked back and found that there's a terrible crop failure about every 123 years. The last big one was in 1890. So Beveridge anticipated that the next might fall in 1923.

He was wrong. But did he miss it entirely, or just by a few years? Is there danger of a world famine this year or in the next few years ahead?

Crop failures come in years of unfavorable weather, which repeats periodically—the "solar or meteorological cycle" is what the scientists call it.

We've been having freshish weather for a couple of years, of a long-range sort that is dangerous to the food supply.

Years of plenty and lean years come in rotational groups. You recall the seven fat years and the seven lean years in Egypt. If Joseph were alive again, he'd have been buying the farmers' surplus grain and storing it in warehouses for a period of crop failure.

All this "dope" about crop failures, of course, is scientific guesswork, largely. Maybe there's nothing ahead except bumper crops. All of us devoutly hope so.

But the possibility of a big crop failure is worthy serious thought. Our generation hasn't gone through a real crop failure, so it doesn't know what real trouble is.

Nature tends to balance things in the long run. When she gives us too much food over a long stretch of time, she's apt to start the ball rolling the other way.

Give us a crop failure and you wouldn't find farmers complaining about prices being low. Trouble is, they wouldn't have much to sell. The system gets the farmer coming and going.

An airship flight around the world was planned by a Belgian named Robertson in 1904. He was a fine, quite a star for his day. Which isn't saying much, for the balloon had only been invented 21 years before. Robertson proposed circling the globe with a fish-shaped balloon 150 feet long. He never made the trip, of course, but did explore the air to a height of over four miles above ground.

"Visionary dream," scoffed capitalists he asked to finance his round-the-world flight. Today the thing is being done. Nothing is impossible given enough time.

Four hundred million dollars is hidden behind the clock, under the mattress and in other nooks by Americans who are afraid of banks. So estimates a treasury official.

Banks still an economic menace, because hoarded money is idle instead of working to keep business active.

But there is a greater American horde—the collective result of the habit of carrying too much money in pockets. This money, too, is idle and unproductive. How much "loose change" do you keep out of circulation, on the average?

A Texas cowboy, giving a speed demonstration of roping a steer, is arrested by the S. P. C. A. in Brooklyn, N. Y., on charge of cruelty to animals. The technical charge is "twisting a steer's neck in cruel and unusual fashion."

Few of these people, who have such violent aversion to cruelty to animals, are backward about eating a juicy steak.

A New York banker "wants workers to increase production and do away with unnecessary restrictions if the present high wages and high standards of living are to be maintained."

It is an old story, but true. The standard of living can be no higher than the sum total of production. We can't use more than we produce, any more than we can eat more eggs than the chicken lays.

Anything that restricts production lowers the standard of living.

Justice Benedict says: "There is far too much time spent in detection of the misdeeds of the ordinary offender against ordinances and regulations which involve no moral wrong, and too little time devoted to catching and punishing criminals possessed of influence or wealth."

It's a good deal like bootlegging. The nets usually are set for the minors. A whale is caught only occasionally. It's more dangerous to steal $1000 than a chicken.

New York exports more goods to foreign countries than any other state. Texas comes second. Third is Pennsylvania, with only half as much as Texas. This is shown by statistics of recent months. Most of the eastern states rank high in the list. They will wane as the center of gravity of our foreign trade gradually swings more westward to be nearer its big markets and sources of raw materials.

This country's future is west of the Mississippi.

EDWARD MANDELL HOUSE

Colonel Edward Mandell House of New York and Paris and London is a former Texan. He is the man who is said to have made Woodrow Wilson, and to have won for Wilson two remarkable victories at the polls. Colonel House does not say it. His friends say it for him.

Colonel George Harvey has made the same claim. It is barely possible that Woodrow Wilson made himself. Now Colonel House is on the road again. He has advised the democrats to come out for the league of nations. Four years ago he advised the democrats to come out for the league of nations. They came out, they remained out a few months and then they went in again.

Warren G. Harding had a popular majority of seven million. James M. Cox was the goat. Harding is dead. Cox isn't dead. He made a gallant but losing fight four years ago. All the big wins of democratic party permitted him to make the fight alone. Ohio democrats have not deserted Cox. They instructed him for 1924. He was entitled to their confidence and their delegates.

He knew he was going to the morgue four years ago, but he never flickered, never ran up the white feather, never whimpered when he went down in defeat, and has never shown his raw spots to the people.

Why not nominate Colonel House on a league of nations platform? This would provide another test for the intelligence and the patriotism of the American voters.

POPULATION OF AMERICA

Congress has closed the ports to aliens and now an estimate of population has been made by the national bureau of economic Research. The population of the United States was 112,826,000 on January 1, 1924. This is a gain of one million nine hundred and forty-three thousand in a year. The official census report of 1920 placed the population of the United States at 105,711,000, or an increase of more than seven million since 1920.

According to the report a low death-rate was a large factor in the remarkable gain. Now the calculators say that in the next fifty years the population of the United States will reach two hundred million. Then the race will be to the strong and the cunning, and the masses will be fighting for food as they are in the thickly populated ancient lands unless a new civilization has been ushered in by the wise men who are then on earth.

China has a population of four hundred million; India of four hundred million. Men and women do not live on those faraway lands. They starve from the cradle to the grave.

HIS RACE WAS RUN

Peter Clark MacFarlane committed suicide because he did not dare or care to face the future. He felt that he was mortally ill, that daily he was slowly dragging himself to the grave, that his health had been broken and that his race was nearly run. Why censure him? Death had placed its cold hand upon him, and he knew that his career was over. May his soul rest in peace.

Somebody Must Be Talking About Him

THE FUN SHOP

By MAXSON FOXHALL JUDELL

Our Own LOST AND FOUND Department

John Craig—You would oblige me greatly if you'd give me your version of that nursery rhyme about "Twinkle, twinkle, little star."

Dear Jack: It's now been taken from the nursery into the photoplay room, and reads like this:

"Twinkle, twinkle, move, star."

How I wonder what you are! An angel child, as you claim to be.

Or the vamp you play so prettily.

Dorothy DeJager—Can you tell me the gist of the poem beginning:

"Where are the snows of yester-year" or shall I write to the weather bureau?

Dear Dottie: We offer a little lyric which is "gist" what you are looking for:

"Where are the snows of yester-year?"

This may disquiet the high-brows. But what I'd like to know, my dear, is where are your last year's eyebrows.

A Victim of the Age

"Poor man, what was your line?"

Postmaster S. J. Dunn,

"Will the civil service examiners sit in session with the commission if Mr. Miles asks a hearing?" the mayor was asked.

"I don't care to say anything about that—I think my letter covers that," answered the mayor.

"Who will preside at the hearing if there is one?"

"I will preside," said the mayor.

By early each commissioner nominates employees and officers in his department biennially on the third Saturday in May or as soon as possible thereafter, the office of city clerk coming under the department of public records and finance, of which Commissioner B. H. Wiley is head.

Other officers in the city service classification of Miles, whose discharge may now be accomplished directly by the commission, are G. R. Lemax, deputy assessor and collector of taxes under Commissioner Wiley; of office, and W. L. Hastings, chief bookkeeper of the water and sewer department.

ATTICUS WEBB TO SPEAK HERE

Famous Temperance Worker Here Sunday

Prohibition advances in two Port Arthur churches are scheduled for next Sunday when Rev. Dr. Atticus Webb, superintendent of the Texas Anti-Saloon league, and another speaker, yet to be named, will speak in the First M. E. Church, South, 1245 Fifth street, and the First Baptist church, Fifth street and Shreveport avenue.

Adoption of the "S. O. S." system of eliminating and ascertaining bad check writers was announced this morning by Felix Broussard, secretary of the Retail Merchants' association who stated the directors of that organization had accepted the recommendation of the committee appointed to investigate the matter.

The new system is one of broadcasting via telephone, the name of anyone giving a bad check or was attempting to give one in any Port Arthur store. A card system is devised with telephone numbers on it and which shows the detailed operation of the system.

Committee Reports

"It takes only fifteen minutes by this system to let every merchant in Port Arthur who is a member of the association know a bad check artist or customer is operating. We shall have the system in full operation this week," was the statement of Secretary Broussard.

The "S. O. S." committee that investigated and recommended the system was composed of J. W. Faulkner, W. E. Weatherly, Fred Miller and Russell Dunn, Jr.

Dignity of Senate Comes Into Its Own

NEW YORK, June 24.—The dignity of the senate which suffered such a blow at Cleveland when the republican members were ignored, has come into its own at this convention.

In contrast to the comparative obscurity of Lodge, Watson, et al. in Cleveland the democrats have selected Harrison as keynote and Walsh of Montana as permanent chairman. Seven senators are on the resolutions committee.

In the distribution of lesser offices the senate received more than its share.

The largest single bet put on any of the "dark horses" was placed by Underwood, $5,000 to $17,000 he will be the nominee.

Smith and McAdoo odds lengthened with Smith quoted at 1 to 2 1/2 and McAdoo one to three.

Other odds were quoted:

Glass, one to three and one-half; Davis, one to three and one-half; Balston, one to three and one-half.
